

Single Copies Three Cents.

Figure 1. Schematic representation of the hsp70 gene structure. The gene is organized into 11 exons (numbered 1 to 11) and 10 introns (numbered 1 to 10). The exons are represented by boxes, and the introns by lines. The 5' and 3' ends of the gene are indicated. The scale bar represents 1 kb.

THE RICHEST MAN IN THE WORLD.
EXTRACT OF A LETTER FROM BARON SOLOMON ROTHSCHILD.
Paris, 6th April, 1864, 25 Rue Faubv, St. Honoré.
Will you be kind enough to have forwarded to me two 200 bottles of your fullan Liniment; If you will send at the same time the assurance

[illegible]

wholesale and retail by Denton, Barnes & Co., 167
Park Row, N. Y.; Blois & Robinson, 168 Broadway;
Street, N. Y.; F. C. Weller & Co., 191 Fulton-st., N. Y.; Chas. N. Critchenden, 35 4th Ave., N. Y.; and by respectable Druggists throughout the world. Numerous reputable analyses made by John Thos. Lane, and communicated by A. T. LANE & CO., Proprietors, 163
Broadway, N. Y. 12-34 for Circular.

BRUYER'S
RHEUMATISM, GOUT, AND NEURALGIA.

...and with these all other remedies were tried without avail. Thompson's have been tried for it.
 The most severe pain followed in 24 hours, by a profuse perspiration. Price 25 cents. One 25-centage will afford relief from the disease from the system. Send for circular.
 W. ALLEN, Agent, 12 School St., Room 8, Boston
 Mass.

RECEIPIENT AS A
HOUSEHOLD MEDICINE.
 Suffered people, or those with weak constitutions,

Put up full Strength, in all its natural purity, in large square bottles, with the name of
J. & R. DUNSTER.
LONDON.
BLOWN IN THE GLASS,
Pneumatic Depoant
C. A. RICHARDS & CO.

Wholesale and Retail Dealer in all the best kinds of Wines and Spirits,
80 WASHINGTON STREET,
BOSTON.
Who are also proprietors of the EXTRACT OF
RYE, GOLDEN SLIP FLOUR, and
C. A. RICHARDS & CO'S CALIFORNIA
WINE.
To be found in most all Drug and Grocery Stores a over America

DUNSTON'S
LONDON CORDIAL GIN.
THE
GREAT DIURETIC REMEDY
OF THE AGE.
AN EFFECTIVE MEDICINE,
AND

A PLEASANT BEVERAGE.
Celebrated in England for half a century,—spreading its popularity all over America.
Distilled from Malted Grain And Juniper Berries, flavored with Aromatic Seeds and Perfumed.
Health-giving and pungent, with its delicious cordon flavor.
IT ACTS DIRECTLY ON THE KIDNEY

HEALTH AND VIGOR

No. 5.

SIMILIA SIMILIBUS CURANTUR.

HOMOEOPATHIC SPECIFICS.

WE HAVE PROVED, FROM THE MOST AMPLI-

1.	Cure	Fever, Congestion, Inflammation.	Counters
2.	"	Worms, Worm-Fever, Worm-Colic.	"
3.	"	Crying-Colic, or Teething of Infants.	"
4.	"	Biliousness of children or adults.	"
5.	"	Dysentery, Griping, Bilious Colic.	"
6.	"	Colic, Morbun, Vomiting.	"

10. Hæmorrhæe, Sick-heads, Vertigo,
11. Dyspepsia, Billous Stomach,
12. Suppressed, or painful Periods,
13. Waire, too profuse Periods,
14. Croup, Cough, Difficult B eating,
15. Scalds, Eruptions,
16. Rheumatic, Eruptions, Pains,
17. Fever & Ague, Child Fever, Agnes,
18. Piles, Blind or bleed'g,
19. Ophthalmia, and sore or weak Eyes,
20. Catarrh, acute or chronic, Influenza,
21. Whooping Cough, violent Coughs,
22. Asthma, oppressed Breathing,

86.	"	General Debility, Physical Weakness.
87.	"	Prosy, and many Secretions.
88.	"	Rheumatism, stiffness from riding.
89.	"	Kidney-Diarrhoea, Gravel.
90.	"	Nervous Debility, Seminal
91.	"	Emulsions, involuntary Discharges.
92.	"	Scorbutic, Canker.
93.	"	Urinary Weakness, swelling bed.
94.	"	Painful Periods, with Spasms.
95.	"	Sufferings at change of life.
96.	"	Epilepsy, Spasms, St. Vitae Dance, &c.
97.	"	Diphtheria, ulcerated Sore throat.

Smaller Tonality and Traveling ..... from $10.00 cases, with 20 to 25 pills..... $3 to $8 00
Specifics for all Private Diseases
both for Curing and for Preventive treatment, in vials and pocket-cases..... 95 to $3 00
For These Remedies by the case or single box, free of any part of the country, by Mail or Express.

HOMOEOPATHIC MEDICINE COMPANY
 Fire and Depot, No. 28 Broadway, New York.
 Dr. Thompson is consulted daily at his office, personally or by letter, on acute, or all forms of disease.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
 For sale in this city by CASWELL, HARRIS AND CO.
 Myrtle St. 6m

TABER & DUGAN,
Painters & Glaziers,
 ARE PREPARED to attend to all work in their line.

PAINTS, GLASS,
AND OTHER MATERIALS PER-TAINING TO THEIR BUSINESS, WHICH WILL BE FURNISHED AS
Low as the Market Affords
NO. 13 BROAD STREET.

Government Securities
OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS BOUGHT
AND SOLD.
SEVENTY-TWO HUNDRED

Foreign News.

Prior to his escape from Capri, Garibaldi issued the following address dated October 7:

To the Italians: Fighting has begun on the Roman Territory. There are men there for whom I would give a thousand lives. I shall not cowardly waver, but march. To-morrow Italy will receive congratulations from the entire world, which will have witnessed your heroism.

G. GARIBOLDI.

The London Times says that at a special congregation on the 12th the Right Rev. C. P. Melville, Bishop of Ohio; H. J. Whitehouse, Bishop of Illinois; T. Atkinson, Bishop of North Carolina; H. W. Lee, Bishop of Iowa; H. C. Lay, Missionary Bishop to Arkansas and the Indians; G. T. Quintard, Bishop of Tennessee; and J. B. Kerfoot, Bishop of Pittsburgh, were admitted to the honorary degree of LL. D. Grace had passed the Senate for conferring this degree on all the American Bishops who attended the recent conference at Lambeth, but only seven found it convenient to receive the degree to-day.

The Julia Colonists, numbering forty souls, chiefly women and children, had arrived at Alexandria on board the steamer Quaker City. Their passages were paid as far as Alexandria and they were landed at that place in a state of utter destitution. A small fund has been collected and was in the hands of the Hon. Charles Hale, U. S. Consul General for Egypt, for the purpose of sending the unfortunate Colonists back to the United States, but it was wholly inadequate at this juncture. Mr. M. S. Beach of the New York Sun, one of the Quaker City excursionists, with great generosity placed in Mr. Hale's hands the sum of $800 pounds sterling to complete the sum necessary to enable the Colonists to be sent home. Passages were forthwith taken for the entire party, and they left Alexandria on the 25th of October per steamer for Liverpool, en route for America.

A Florence correspondent says a marked change has come over Italy, and all are convinced that now or never is the time to push on to Rome. There was a general feeling of acutely anticipated interference by France. Italians feel that they have rights as a constituted nation to settle their own affairs, and only ask to be let alone.

The London Times of the 16th says: "Seeing his closer acquaintance with German feeling had dispelled his last illusion, the Emperor Napoleon's voice has been consistently raised in favor of peace. His utterance at the next Imperial sitting in the Senate will clear any doubt that may still linger in men's minds, but in the meanwhile we seek no better guarantees for the continuance of peace than the result of that very journey to Salzburg which has given rise to so vast an amount of speculation."

London papers of the 17th say: At midnight on Monday a Fenian mob attacked the armory of the 128th Norfolk Rifle Volunteers, situated at Reepham, Norfolk. Sixty rifles and 10,000 ball cartridges were carried away. Pistol shots were exchanged, some policemen wounded and the armory in charge is mortally wounded. There is great excitement in the district. The Fenians have retired to Fostley Wood, pursued by the police and volunteers, under the command of Gen. Sutton.

The Scallops and Oyster Fishery in Connecticut Bay.

The Greenwich Pendulum states that the scallop trade in that vicinity has grown up within the last six years, taking the place of the clam and quahog business which had flourished there from time immemorial. Hundreds of bushels of scallops have been caught daily, "cut out" and sent to order from all points of the compass to market. Many thousands of gallons of the delicious shell-fish were disposed of last year to retailers in Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Connecticut and New York, at prices that well paid the fishermen for marketing them.

The Scallops have now been driven out of the bay to a great extent, and are now found on the border of Narragansett Bay, a large lot of them lying near Warwick Neck and the Middle ground. The process of their superabundance and the growth of a new business is thus described by the Pendulum:

Three years ago it was observed that many of the scallops had attached to their shells very small oysters—some of the form were nearly conical and in size and quantity, while with the scallop it was the reverse. It was also observable that the oysters were not only fastening themselves to the scallops, but that they were also clinging to stones and sticks, and even to themselves, thus forming clusters, and nearly large enough for use. This change has gone on, and now we have acres of these oysters of good size and of as fine flavor as any perhaps in the world. They can be caught at low water all along our shores, even above the wharves in the harbor, in great abundance. Thousands of bushels have been taken since the 15th of last month. Such are the prospects of the fishery that the State Commissioner of Shell-fish has already sold twenty six acres of these oyster beds at prices varying from $10 to $30 an acre, with the probability of further sales. These acres are leased by our fishermen, and yet there is a full supply for the coming taking them from our waters daily.

PERSONAL.—George W. Reynolds, employed as a harness cleaner in Johnson's stable on Cove street, was found dead yesterday morning about 7 o'clock in the carriage house adjoining the stable. He was in the habit of sleeping in the stable at night. A post-mortem examination by Dr. Mason indicated that he had died from congestion of the brain. He was about thirty-five years of age and belonged in Washington Village, where he has a mother and sister residing. His uncle, who lives in South Providence, received his remains yesterday, after the post-mortem examination, to that place.—Prov. Herald, 28th.

The statement of the public debt for the present month will show a contraction of four millions in the currency.

Local News Items.

[For the Daily News.]

Was there ever a public occasion in which some John Hook didn't appear with his hoarse cry of "hook"? The John Hook of the Standard demonstration seems to be one W. A. J., a correspondent of the Newport News. It is his grounds of complaint are as useless as his charge that the treasury of the State pays all the bills, and we think they are—his superior officers ought to rebuke his provocation as well as his indecency. The city committee provided ample entertainment for twenty-four hundred men, of which less than seventeen hundred partook. If "W. A. J." or any of his associates went away hungry, the fault certainly did not rest where he assumes to place it.

NEWPORT, Oct. 27th, 1867. Messrs. Editors:—The above delicate extract I clipped from the editorial column of the Providence Journal. What is your opinion of the choice language employed by the editors of the Journal to express their thoughts?

When I was a boy and went to school, in any contest, either physical or otherwise, it was very generally understood that the one who began to call names and make use of harsh words to express his thoughts, was the identical individual who had by far the worse side of the argument. The Journal knows very well that my grounds for complaint are not in-decency, and attempts to smooth the matter by playing a little game of "bluff" in the face of brand and staving facts. However any such article may serve as a salve to the wounded feelings of the inhabitants of the city of Providence, I can assure the Journal that it will take rather more than that to quiet the indignant remembrance of the citizens of Newport. They demand courteous and gentlemanly treatment of their citizen soldiers, which has never yet been accorded to them in the city of Providence, as far as my memory extends, and a good deal further. A great many of the men who filled our ranks so creditably on the 23d inst. were poor men dependent on their daily labor to provide food for their wives and little ones, and it seems very hard to them, and I have no doubt it will to every thinking man, that they should lose an entire day's labor, which is no small matter to many of them, and then, after doing the hardest day's work they ever did in their lives in order to do honor to the "Hero of Winchester," and that the time of Providence might ascend and be as invidious to those who roll round in their carriages after Sheridan, that they, after all this, should be forced to purchase their dinner the best way they could. Does the Journal suppose that these men would have purchased their dinner if one had been provided for them as it was understood that it would be when we accepted the invitation of the City Council of Providence through the Major General? If there was entertainment for 2400 men provided, and only 1700 partook of it, where were the other 700 rationed. Let the Journal explain why it was that if so much had been provided and only a part of it eaten, when the Newport companies came in to get their share, that they are told there is nothing for them. My dear Journal, any such statements as that, don't hardly stand the test of close handling. It is all very well to say that no amulet was provided and only a part of it eaten, when the fact states us in the face that 400 men were obliged to go away hungry, and an old proverb with which the Journal must be familiar says, "The proof of the pudding is the eating."

But alas! we had no pudding to eat, and so we can't say how good the pudding was. Will the Journal have the kindness to explain what became of those 700 squarations that we did not get? I trust it was not wasted, but as we did not get any of it, I hope it was given to the poor.

I am sorry to say I am not sufficiently posted to be able to see the force of the Journal's comparison of "John Hook." "Where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise," and I have no doubt something very cutting lurks behind that expression, only that it is obscured from my optics.

I am not inclined to make any reply to an article in the Standard, compounded of low attempts at wit and perverted and garbled quotations from my former communication. Its writer may derive such comfort as is possible from such a production. I cannot close without expressing my thanks, and through me, the thanks of all the military companies of Newport to the Providence Light Infantry for their very evident good intentions, and let me assure you, gentlemen, that if at any time, you honor Newport with your presence, the Light Infantry of Newport will take good care of you and will not send you home hungry.

W. A. J.

I. O. of Good Templars.—Rancha Lodge No. 12 last evening elected the following officers for the ensuing quarter:

W. C. T.—Stephen A. Bates.
W. V. T.—Mrs. Ellen Langley.
W. S.—Olin L. Liverey.
W. T. S.—Mrs. Nellie J. Tins.
W. T.—Augustus C. Tins.
W. C.—John Northrup.
W. M.—James H. Knowles.
W. L. G.—Mrs. Hannah Wilberly.
W. O. G.—Daniel Witherly.

PERSONAL.—We are pained to learn that Rev. Geo. W. Bridge pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Edgartown Mass., is very low with typhus fever and not expected to live. We have known him for years as an excellent man and an able minister, and his loss will be severely felt.

Right Rev. Bishop Wayman of the A. M. E. Church arrived in this city this morning and will preach in the Spruce Street Church this evening at 8 o'clock.

TAKEN IN AND DROPPED FOR.—An unfortunate specimen of humanity was taken from the New York steamer Saturday night drunk and noisy. Resisting the police he got a sore head and was locked up until yesterday morning, when he was released, and last evening took passage for New York, whether he was bound. He says he had not drunk a drop before for twelve years, when he got a sore head as in this instance.

He concluded that rum and he were not suitable companions.

A handbill offering $2500 for the assassination of Hannibal, Underwood & Co., was found on the streets of Richmond this morning. This would seem, was evidently intended as an offer to the letters of the negro vigilance committee, ordering certain citizens to leave the city.

Local News Items.

[For the Daily News.]

Was there ever a public occasion in which some John Hook didn't appear with his hoarse cry of "hook"? The John Hook of the Standard demonstration seems to be one W. A. J., a correspondent of the Newport News. It is his grounds of complaint are as useless as his charge that the treasury of the State pays all the bills, and we think they are—his superior officers ought to rebuke his provocation as well as his indecency. The city committee provided ample entertainment for twenty-four hundred men, of which less than seventeen hundred partook. If "W. A. J." or any of his associates went away hungry, the fault certainly did not rest where he assumes to place it.

NEWPORT, Oct. 27th, 1867. Messrs. Editors:—The above delicate extract I clipped from the editorial column of the Providence Journal. What is your opinion of the choice language employed by the editors of the Journal to express their thoughts?

When I was a boy and went to school, in any contest, either physical or otherwise, it was very generally understood that the one who began to call names and make use of harsh words to express his thoughts, was the identical individual who had by far the worse side of the argument. The Journal knows very well that my grounds for complaint are not in-decency, and attempts to smooth the matter by playing a little game of "bluff" in the face of brand and staving facts. However any such article may serve as a salve to the wounded feelings of the inhabitants of the city of Providence, I can assure the Journal that it will take rather more than that to quiet the indignant remembrance of the citizens of Newport. They demand courteous and gentlemanly treatment of their citizen soldiers, which has never yet been accorded to them in the city of Providence, as far as my memory extends, and a good deal further. A great many of the men who filled our ranks so creditably on the 23d inst. were poor men dependent on their daily labor to provide food for their wives and little ones, and it seems very hard to them, and I have no doubt it will to every thinking man, that they should lose an entire day's labor, which is no small matter to many of them, and then, after doing the hardest day's work they ever did in their lives in order to do honor to the "Hero of Winchester," and that the time of Providence might ascend and be as invidious to those who roll round in their carriages after Sheridan, that they, after all this, should be forced to purchase their dinner the best way they could. Does the Journal suppose that these men would have purchased their dinner if one had been provided for them as it was understood that it would be when we accepted the invitation of the City Council of Providence through the Major General? If there was entertainment for 2400 men provided, and only 1700 partook of it, where were the other 700 rationed. Let the Journal explain why it was that if so much had been provided and only a part of it eaten, when the Newport companies came in to get their share, that they are told there is nothing for them. My dear Journal, any such statements as that, don't hardly stand the test of close handling. It is all very well to say that no amulet was provided and only a part of it eaten, when the fact states us in the face that 400 men were obliged to go away hungry, and an old proverb with which the Journal must be familiar says, "The proof of the pudding is the eating."

But alas! we had no pudding to eat, and so we can't say how good the pudding was. Will the Journal have the kindness to explain what became of those 700 squarations that we did not get? I trust it was not wasted, but as we did not get any of it, I hope it was given to the poor.

I am sorry to say I am not sufficiently posted to be able to see the force of the Journal's comparison of "John Hook." "Where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise," and I have no doubt something very cutting lurks behind that expression, only that it is obscured from my optics.

I am not inclined to make any reply to an article in the Standard, compounded of low attempts at wit and perverted and garbled quotations from my former communication. Its writer may derive such comfort as is possible from such a production. I cannot close without expressing my thanks, and through me, the thanks of all the military companies of Newport to the Providence Light Infantry for their very evident good intentions, and let me assure you, gentlemen, that if at any time, you honor Newport with your presence, the Light Infantry of Newport will take good care of you and will not send you home hungry.

W. A. J.

I. O. of Good Templars.—Rancha Lodge No. 12 last evening elected the following officers for the ensuing quarter:

W. C. T.—Stephen A. Bates.
W. V. T.—Mrs. Ellen Langley.
W. S.—Olin L. Liverey.
W. T. S.—Mrs. Nellie J. Tins.
W. T.—Augustus C. Tins.
W. C.—John Northrup.
W. M.—James H. Knowles.
W. L. G.—Mrs. Hannah Wilberly.
W. O. G.—Daniel Witherly.

PERSONAL.—We are pained to learn that Rev. Geo. W. Bridge pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Edgartown Mass., is very low with typhus fever and not expected to live. We have known him for years as an excellent man and an able minister, and his loss will be severely felt.

Right Rev. Bishop Wayman of the A. M. E. Church arrived in this city this morning and will preach in the Spruce Street Church this evening at 8 o'clock.

TAKEN IN AND DROPPED FOR.—An unfortunate specimen of humanity was taken from the New York steamer Saturday night drunk and noisy. Resisting the police he got a sore head and was locked up until yesterday morning, when he was released, and last evening took passage for New York, whether he was bound. He says he had not drunk a drop before for twelve years, when he got a sore head as in this instance.

He concluded that rum and he were not suitable companions.

Local News Items.

[For the Daily News.]

Was there ever a public occasion in which some John Hook didn't appear with his hoarse cry of "hook"? The John Hook of the Standard demonstration seems to be one W. A. J., a correspondent of the Newport News. It is his grounds of complaint are as useless as his charge that the treasury of the State pays all the bills, and we think they are—his superior officers ought to rebuke his provocation as well as his indecency. The city committee provided ample entertainment for twenty-four hundred men, of which less than seventeen hundred partook. If "W. A. J." or any of his associates went away hungry, the fault certainly did not rest where he assumes to place it.

NEWPORT, Oct. 27th, 1867. Messrs. Editors:—The above delicate extract I clipped from the editorial column of the Providence Journal. What is your opinion of the choice language employed by the editors of the Journal to express their thoughts?

When I was a boy and went to school, in any contest, either physical or otherwise, it was very generally understood that the one who began to call names and make use of harsh words to express his thoughts, was the identical individual who had by far the worse side of the argument. The Journal knows very well that my grounds for complaint are not in-decency, and attempts to smooth the matter by playing a little game of "bluff" in the face of brand and staving facts. However any such article may serve as a salve to the wounded feelings of the inhabitants of the city of Providence, I can assure the Journal that it will take rather more than that to quiet the indignant remembrance of the citizens of Newport. They demand courteous and gentlemanly treatment of their citizen soldiers, which has never yet been accorded to them in the city of Providence, as far as my memory extends, and a good deal further. A great many of the men who filled our ranks so creditably on the 23d inst. were poor men dependent on their daily labor to provide food for their wives and little ones, and it seems very hard to them, and I have no doubt it will to every thinking man, that they should lose an entire day's labor, which is no small matter to many of them, and then, after doing the hardest day's work they ever did in their lives in order to do honor to the "Hero of Winchester," and that the time of Providence might ascend and be as invidious to those who roll round in their carriages after Sheridan, that they, after all this, should be forced to purchase their dinner the best way they could. Does the Journal suppose that these men would have purchased their dinner if one had been provided for them as it was understood that it would be when we accepted the invitation of the City Council of Providence through the Major General? If there was entertainment for 2400 men provided, and only 1700 partook of it, where were the other 700 rationed. Let the Journal explain why it was that if so much had been provided and only a part of it eaten, when the Newport companies came in to get their share, that they are told there is nothing for them. My dear Journal, any such statements as that, don't hardly stand the test of close handling. It is all very well to say that no amulet was provided and only a part of it eaten, when the fact states us in the face that 400 men were obliged to go away hungry, and an old proverb with which the Journal must be familiar says, "The proof of the pudding is the eating."

But alas! we had no pudding to eat, and so we can't say how good the pudding was. Will the Journal have the kindness to explain what became of those 700 squarations that we did not get? I trust it was not wasted, but as we did not get any of it, I hope it was given to the poor.

I am sorry to say I am not sufficiently posted to be able to see the force of the Journal's comparison of "John Hook." "Where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise," and I have no doubt something very cutting lurks behind that expression, only that it is obscured from my optics.

I am not inclined to make any reply to an article in the Standard, compounded of low attempts at wit and perverted and garbled quotations from my former communication. Its writer may derive such comfort as is possible from such a production. I cannot close without expressing my thanks, and through me, the thanks of all the military companies of Newport to the Providence Light Infantry for their very evident good intentions, and let me assure you, gentlemen, that if at any time, you honor Newport with your presence, the Light Infantry of Newport will take good care of you and will not send you home hungry.

W. A. J.

I. O. of Good Templars.—Rancha Lodge No. 12 last evening elected the following officers for the ensuing quarter:

W. C. T.—Stephen A. Bates.
W. V. T.—Mrs. Ellen Langley.
W. S.—Olin L. Liverey.
W. T. S.—Mrs. Nellie J. Tins.
W. T.—Augustus C. Tins.
W. C.—John Northrup.
W. M.—James H. Knowles.
W. L. G.—Mrs. Hannah Wilberly.
W. O. G.—Daniel Witherly.

PERSONAL.—We are pained to learn that Rev. Geo. W. Bridge pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Edgartown Mass., is very low with typhus fever and not expected to live. We have known him for years as an excellent man and an able minister, and his loss will be severely felt.

Right Rev. Bishop Wayman of the A. M. E. Church arrived in this city this morning and will preach in the Spruce Street Church this evening at 8 o'clock.

TAKEN IN AND DROPPED FOR.—An unfortunate specimen of humanity was taken from the New York steamer Saturday night drunk and noisy. Resisting the police he got a sore head and was locked up until yesterday morning, when he was released, and last evening took passage for New York, whether he was bound. He says he had not drunk a drop before for twelve years, when he got a sore head as in this instance.

He concluded that rum and he were not suitable companions.

Local News Items.

[For the Daily News.]

Was there ever a public occasion in which some John Hook didn't appear with his hoarse cry of "hook"? The John Hook of the Standard demonstration seems to be one W. A. J., a correspondent of the Newport News. It is his grounds of complaint are as useless as his charge that the treasury of the State pays all the bills, and we think they are—his superior officers ought to rebuke his provocation as well as his indecency. The city committee provided ample entertainment for twenty-four hundred men, of which less than seventeen hundred partook. If "W. A. J." or any of his associates went away hungry, the fault certainly did not rest where he assumes to place it.

NEWPORT, Oct. 27th, 1867. Messrs. Editors:—The above delicate extract I clipped from the editorial column of the Providence Journal. What is your opinion of the choice language employed by the editors of the Journal to express their thoughts?

When I was a boy and went to school, in any contest, either physical or otherwise, it was very generally understood that the one who began to call names and make use of harsh words to express his thoughts, was the identical individual who had by far the worse side of the argument. The Journal knows very well that my grounds for complaint are not in-decency, and attempts to smooth the matter by playing a little game of "bluff" in the face of brand and staving facts. However any such article may serve as a salve to the wounded feelings of the inhabitants of the city of Providence, I can assure the Journal that it will take rather more than that to quiet the indignant remembrance of the citizens of Newport. They demand courteous and gentlemanly treatment of their citizen soldiers, which has never yet been accorded to them in the city of Providence, as far as my memory extends, and a good deal further. A great many of the men who filled our ranks so creditably on the 23d inst. were poor men dependent on their daily labor to provide food for their wives and little ones, and it seems very hard to them, and I have no doubt it will to every thinking man, that they should lose an entire day's labor, which is no small matter to many of them, and then, after doing the hardest day's work they ever did in their lives in order to do honor to the "Hero of Winchester," and that the time of Providence might ascend and be as invidious to those who roll round in their carriages after Sheridan, that they, after all this, should be forced to purchase their dinner the best way they could. Does the Journal suppose that these men would have purchased their dinner if one had been provided for them as it was understood that it would be when we accepted the invitation of the City Council of Providence through the Major General? If there was entertainment for 2400 men provided, and only 1700 partook of it, where were the other 700 rationed. Let the Journal explain why it was that if so much had been provided and only a part of it eaten, when the Newport companies came in to get their share, that they are told there is nothing for them. My dear Journal, any such statements as that, don't hardly stand the test of close handling. It is all very well to say that no amulet was provided and only a part of it eaten, when the fact states us in the face that 400 men were obliged to go away hungry, and an old proverb with which the Journal must be familiar says, "The proof of the pudding is the eating."

But alas! we had no pudding to eat, and so we can't say how good the pudding was. Will the Journal have the kindness to explain what became of those 700 squarations that we did not get? I trust it was not wasted, but as we did not get any of it, I hope it was given to the poor.

I am sorry to say I am not sufficiently posted to be able to see the force of the Journal's comparison of "John Hook." "Where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise," and I have no doubt something very cutting lurks behind that expression, only that it is obscured from my optics.

I am not inclined to make any reply to an article in the Standard, compounded of low attempts at wit and perverted and garbled quotations from my former communication. Its writer may derive such comfort as is possible from such a production. I cannot close without expressing my thanks, and through me, the thanks of all the military companies of Newport to the Providence Light Infantry for their very evident good intentions, and let me assure you, gentlemen, that if at any time, you honor Newport with your presence, the Light Infantry of Newport will take good care of you and will not send you home hungry.

W. A. J.

I. O. of Good Templars.—Rancha Lodge No. 12 last evening elected the following officers for the ensuing quarter:

W. C. T.—Stephen A. Bates.
W. V. T.—Mrs. Ellen Langley.
W. S.—Olin L. Liverey.
W. T. S.—Mrs. Nellie J. Tins.
W. T.—Augustus C. Tins.
W. C.—John Northrup.
W. M.—James H. Knowles.
W. L. G.—Mrs. Hannah Wilberly.
W. O. G.—Daniel Witherly.

PERSONAL.—We are pained to learn that Rev. Geo. W. Bridge pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Edgartown Mass., is very low with typhus fever and not expected to live. We have known him for years as an excellent man and an able minister, and his loss will be severely felt.

Right Rev. Bishop Wayman of the A. M. E. Church arrived in this city this morning and will preach in the Spruce Street Church this evening at 8 o'clock.

TAKEN IN AND DROPPED FOR.—An unfortunate specimen of humanity was taken from the New York steamer Saturday night drunk and noisy. Resisting the police he got a sore head and was locked up until yesterday morning, when he was released, and last evening took passage for New York, whether he was bound. He says he had not drunk a drop before for twelve years, when he got a sore head as in this instance.

He concluded that rum and he were not suitable companions.

Local News Items.

[For the Daily News.]

Was there ever a public occasion in which some John Hook didn't appear with his hoarse cry of "hook"? The John Hook of the Standard demonstration seems to be one W. A. J., a correspondent of the Newport News. It is his grounds of complaint are as useless as his charge that the treasury of the State pays all the bills, and we think they are—his superior officers ought to rebuke his provocation as well as his indecency. The city committee provided ample entertainment for twenty-four hundred men, of which less than seventeen hundred partook. If "W. A. J." or any of his associates went away hungry, the fault certainly did not rest where he assumes to place it.

NEWPORT, Oct. 27th, 1867. Messrs. Editors:—The above delicate extract I clipped from the editorial column of the Providence Journal. What is your opinion of the choice language employed by the editors of the Journal to express their thoughts?

When I was a boy and went to school, in any contest, either physical or otherwise, it was very generally understood that the one who began to call names and make use of harsh words to express his thoughts, was the identical individual who had by far the worse side of the argument. The Journal knows very well that my grounds for complaint are not in-decency, and attempts to smooth the matter by playing a little game of "bluff" in the face of brand and staving facts. However any such article may serve as a salve to the wounded feelings of the inhabitants of the city of Providence, I can assure the Journal that it will take rather more than that to quiet the indignant remembrance of the citizens of Newport. They demand courteous and gentlemanly treatment of their citizen soldiers, which has never yet been accorded to them in the city of Providence, as far as my memory extends, and a good deal further. A great many of the men who filled our ranks so creditably on the 23d inst. were poor men dependent on their daily labor to provide food for their wives and little ones, and it seems very hard to them, and I have no doubt it will to every thinking man, that they should lose an entire day's labor, which is no small matter to many of them, and then, after doing the hardest day's work they ever did in their lives in order to do honor to the "Hero of Winchester," and that the time of Providence might ascend and be as invidious to those who roll round in their carriages after Sheridan, that they, after all this, should be forced to purchase their dinner the best way they could. Does the Journal suppose that these men would have purchased their dinner if one had been provided for them as it was understood that it would be when we accepted the invitation of the City Council of Providence through the Major General? If there was entertainment for 2400 men provided, and only 1700 partook of it, where were the other 700 rationed. Let the Journal explain why it was that if so much had been provided and only a part of it eaten, when the Newport companies came in to get their share, that they are told there is nothing for them. My dear Journal, any such statements as that, don't hardly stand the test of close handling. It is all very well to say that no amulet was provided and only a part of it eaten, when the fact states us in the face that 400 men were obliged to go away hungry, and an old proverb with which the Journal must be familiar says, "The proof of the pudding is the eating."

But alas! we had no pudding to eat, and so we can't say how good the pudding was. Will the Journal have the kindness to explain what became of those 700 squarations that we did not get? I trust it was not wasted, but as we did not get any of it, I hope it was given to the poor.

I am sorry to say I am not sufficiently posted to be able to see the force of the Journal's comparison of "John Hook." "Where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise," and I have no doubt something very cutting lurks behind that expression, only that it is obscured from my optics.

I am not inclined to make any reply to an article in the Standard, compounded of low attempts at wit and perverted and garbled quotations from my former communication. Its writer may derive such comfort as is possible from such a production. I cannot close without expressing my thanks, and through me, the thanks of all the military companies of Newport to the Providence Light Infantry for their very evident good intentions, and let me assure you, gentlemen, that if at any time, you honor Newport with your presence, the Light Infantry of Newport will take good care of you and will not send you home hungry.

W. A. J.

I. O. of Good Templars.—Rancha Lodge No. 12 last evening elected the following officers for the ensuing quarter:

W. C. T.—Stephen A. Bates.
W. V. T.—Mrs. Ellen Langley.
W. S.—Olin L. Liverey.
W. T. S.—Mrs. Nellie J. Tins.
W. T.—Augustus C. Tins.
W. C.—John Northrup.
W. M.—James H. Knowles.
W. L. G.—Mrs. Hannah Wilberly.
W. O. G.—Daniel Witherly.

PERSONAL.—We are pained to learn that Rev. Geo. W. Bridge pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Edgartown Mass., is very low with typhus fever and not expected to live. We have known him for years as an excellent man and an able minister, and his loss will be severely felt.

Right Rev. Bishop Wayman of the A. M. E. Church arrived in this city this morning and will preach in the Spruce Street Church this evening at 8 o'clock.

TAKEN IN AND DROPPED FOR.—An unfortunate specimen of humanity was taken from the New York steamer Saturday night drunk and noisy. Resisting the police he got a sore head and was locked up until yesterday morning, when he was released, and last evening took passage for New York, whether he was bound. He says he had not drunk a drop before for twelve years, when he got a sore head as in this instance.

He concluded that rum and he were not suitable companions.

Local News Items.

[For the Daily News.]

Was there ever a public occasion in which some John Hook didn't appear with his hoarse cry of "hook"? The John Hook of the Standard demonstration seems to be one W. A. J., a correspondent of the Newport News. It is his grounds of complaint are as useless as his charge that the treasury of the State pays all the bills, and we think they are—his superior officers ought to rebuke his provocation as well as his indecency. The city committee provided ample entertainment for twenty-four hundred men, of which less than seventeen hundred partook. If "W. A. J." or any of his associates went away hungry, the fault certainly did not rest where he assumes to place it.

NEWPORT, Oct. 27th, 1867. Messrs. Editors:—The above delicate extract I clipped from the editorial column of the Providence Journal. What is your opinion of the choice language employed by the editors of the Journal to express their thoughts?

When I was a boy and went to school, in any contest, either physical or otherwise, it was very generally understood that the one who began to call names and make use of harsh words to express his thoughts, was the identical individual who had by far the worse side of the argument. The Journal knows very well that my grounds for complaint are not in-decency, and attempts to smooth the matter by playing a little game of "bluff" in the face of brand and staving facts.

_____

WM. BROWNELL,
195 Thames-st.,
—DEALERS IN—
Stoves,
Tin Ware,
House Furnishing Goods.
A good assortment constantly on hand, and sold as LOW as can be found in the city.
NEW PATENT COOKING STOVES received, and delivered in any part of the city.
J. H. B.

---

NEW BOOK.
THE CRUATES DISCIPLINE, by Mr. Abbott,
1865. WARD, Agent, 139 The Arcade.

---

REMOVAL.
THE ORIGINAL WILLIAMS has removed
TO HIS PHOTOGRAPH GALLERY to the Rooms formerly occupied by J. W. Black, in
No. 2 Downing's Block.
Thankful for former favors from his friends and citizens he would ask a continuance of their patronage, assuring them all that his works shall be equal to the best and at prices that are reasonable.

J. A. WILLIAMS.

THE EQUITABLE
Life Assurance Society
OF THE UNITED STATES.
Benefits Conceded to Policy-
Holders.
The Equitable Life Assurance Society offers the following world advantages to its policy-holders.
It is Purely Mutual.
It divides Profit Annually.
Assets, $40,000,000.
Income over $5,000,000.
Assets $29,000,000 in 1906.

CHAS. R. BRAYTON,
General Agent for the U. S. & F. M. Co.

(Local Agents Wanted.)
 No. 62 WE THINSTER-ST.,
 actis. President, R. L.

---

THE
SUN-BURNER
 IS THE BEST BURNER IN THE MARKET.
 All who have used it say so.
 IF AFTER A FAIR TRIAL IT IS NOT AS RE-COMMENDED THE MONEY WILL BE RE-FUNDED.

For sale at
H. T. EASTON'S,
Kerosene Oil and Lamp
DEPT.

No. 7 Washington Square,
1872
PIANO FORTES

Cabinet Organs.
WM. E. GILMORE,

207 Westminster Street,
PROVIDENCE, R. I.
AGENTS FOR HAZLETON'S PIANOFORTES AND PELOUBET'S CABINET ORGANS.

Wanted.
TO HIRE A FINE CLOTH SEWING MACHINE,
the month of August, 1884.
S—

HAS just returned from New York with NEW GOODS, at wholesale and retail, at 17 & 19 Broad Street.
NEW SMOKELESS BEER and CLAMS, at COLWELL'S.

6c191
Paris Exposition.
GOLD MEDAL

An Admitted Fact.
It is admitted by all that ELLIS HOWE, Jr., President of The Howe Machine Co., was

Also, it is admitted that the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor was conferred upon ELIAS HOWE, Jr., by the Emperor Napoleon. There were the HIGHEST HONORS ever awarded to a Sewing Machine Manufacturer.

For what did ELIAS HOWE, JR., receive these honors? He entered the Exposition as a MANUFACTURER of Sewing Machines, not as an "Inventor."
He did not apply for or receive his Gold Medal as "Inventor."
THE AWARD speaks of M<sup>r</sup>. HOWE as "Prominent."

Mr. HOWE (who is supposed to know) says the Gold Medal was awarded to him for his Sewing Machine, AND FOR NOTHING ELSE.
Now in all fairness we ask, How Sewing Machines won the FIRST PRIZE at the Exposition?
Let causes be as causes, and we are content

PLUMMER & WILDER,
General N. E. Agents for Howe Sewing Machines,
29 Bromfield Street, BOSTON.
Sept 14—2m. 11&A

INSURE YOUR

LIVE STOCK.
The ÆTNA, of Hartford,
INSURES Horses, Oxen, and Cows, against Theft, or Death from DISEASE.

Fire, Accident, Disease,
OR ANY CAUSE WHATEVER.

AD losses promptly paid. Rates as low as the nature of the risk will allow.

DAVIS & PITMAN, Agents,
Daily News Building, 13 Church St.
Oct 194

NEW ENGLAND FANCY DYE WORKS,
HARTFORD, Conn.
(Goods received at No. 95 Thames St.)

SUN-BURNERS.
Although known, Charles F. Mumford.

advice to sell the SUN-BURNER
a trifle less than Messrs. Easton &
Lauders, I would inform the public
THAT WE STILL LIVE, and are selling the

SUN-BURVER
A THIRPLE LESS THAN MESSRS.
CLARKE & VAUGHAN.

SUN-BURNERS
Can find them at CHEAP as can be bought in the City, at 129
Kerosene Oil & Lamp Depot

A. C. LANDERS,
113 Thames St., foot of Mary.
cc 111

---

CHOICE

Family and Graham Flours.
WHEATON GROATS, Oatmeal, Flour, Irish, Oat Meal, Bye Meal, Wheat Meal, Bye Graham, White and Yellow Bolsted Meal, Corn, Feed, Meal, Oat, Middlings, All Kinds.

Government Securities

OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS BOUGHT
AND SOLD.
SEVENTY-THREE BOXES maturing in June and July, 1883, exchanged for Five-Pound tea, bearing 6 per cent. interest.
Express, Steamboat, Bank, and other locks, bought and sold in New York or Boston on commissions, by

B. M. HAMMETT,
Broker.

